

Warren Knapp is a Southern California artist with studios in Palm Desert and Pasadena.

Knapp got his start in Southern California thanks to his late father, Seth, who spent the 1920's growing up in the shadow of the Rose Bowl.

After Warren graduated from Pasadena's Art Center college of Design, in 1986, his long time love affair with the arts began.

Today, Warren paints Southern California inspirations and commissioned paintings honoring impressionistic landscapes and street scenes from his clients' treasured memories.
